Dr. William FARLEY

Dr. William Farley, a beloved retiring music teacher, was inspired to pursue music by his middle and high school choir teachers who recognized his potential, while his college professors fueled his desire to become an exceptional music educator. His favorite teaching memory is the collaborative performance of the "Christmas Cantata" with the high school wind ensemble, although his recent experience conducting "Carmina Burana" has become a new favorite. Dr. Farley's deep appreciation for Classical music, especially the works of Chopin and Beethoven, stems from his love of interpreting the intricate compositions. When asked for advice, he emphasizes the dedication and round-the-clock commitment necessary for a career in music education. In retirement, Dr. Farley plans to enhance his piano skills, explore composition, embark on cruises, and perhaps continue teaching in some capacity.

Stepping and Lifting Character

The rhythm of the stomping feet
Angelic voices soaring to new peaks of jubilee
Dispelling doubts and giving birth to dreams otherwise deferred
Sounds unlike any others heard.
Confidence bursting at the seams
Feet and voices together enunciating your vision
Proud smiles broad and bright like sunbeams Pushing. Striving. Reaching higher heights.
